Logan Demands Legge Apologize In Twp. Police Row

Constable Ron Watt, chief of police in Whitcomb, has been demoted to the position of ordinary constable, working under Chief Wm. Mulholland who on Friday was engaged to replace Constable Watt, accused of drinking while on duty, or coming on duty while drinking. Decision of the township was unanimous to demote the officer whom members privately admired, but notwithstanding, his conduct could not be condoned and public opinion at Mulholland's Lake was demanding action, they said.

Under the new arrangement Chief Mulholland will receive $2,250 per annum and mileage at seven cents, and Constable Watt will receive $2,100 and mileage.

Much was said about a recent incident at Mulholland's Lake last Saturday night at which Constable Watt was charged with coming on duty while under the influence of liquor. Rumblings of similar incidents were heard, but no action was attempted by council to discipline the officer until the Saturday occurrence.

Councillor Sid Legge started a bit of "fireworks" when he took the floor and said that as chairman of the police committee of council he made it his duty to get around and see just what was going on. He told of visiting the lake on the night in question, but he denied that Watt was drunk, while admitting the officer may have had a drink. Said Councillor Legge, "I viewed the so-called riot at Mulholland's personally. There was no such thing as a riot, as described in the Toronto evening papers. I stayed there until 2 in the morning, and I enquired from others after who had stayed later and they said there was no riot. I think the township is too big for one officer, and we only have one man on call 24 hours. The thing is a little more serious than some people think. Our officer has never been called before the committee before for misconduct. Are we going to let one incident cost him his job? At the same time I will not tolerate any man using liquor on this job."

Reeve Logan heatedly told Councillor Legge that he had changed his mind since coming to his home (the reeve's) quite excited after the lake incident and wanting something done, some action. "You were up in arms then," declared the reeve to the councillor. Continuing the reeve said, "You say this is the first offence you know of." Mr. Legge retorted, "I said first time before the committee."

Speaking again Councillor Legge went on, "When you say I changed my mind, let me tell you, I landed at that lake at 4 in the afternoon and was back again at 9, and after seeing what went on I was determined to call the committee. We met Tuesday night. Before that I went down to the reeve's place and saw him at his home. I never took so much abuse before. The reeve said, 'Why do you snore around?' I am prepared to give our constable a chance. We can demote him and appoint Mulholland at the head. I know our constable has travelled in deep waters, but give him a chance."

At this point Reeve Logan jumped to the attack. "You owe me an apology for saying I used or gave you abuse. You have already apologized to one of our officers for things you said, but all this is away from the question. What we want to know now, is this council prepared to engage Mr. Mulholland as chief?" Deputy Reeve Ivan McLaughlin said the question called for a yes answer from him. He didn't like to demote Watt on first offence, but possibly there were others not reported, he suggested. "I favor the appointment of Mulholland."

Councillor Fred Timbers agreed, as did Councillor Legge who said, "I spoke before, I will express myself again." Reeve Logan broke in, "I am asking you a straight question, are you or are you not in favor of appointment of Mulholland?" Legge: "You can't appoint a new man when the present officer is in office." "We can fix that when the by-law is brought down. I want to know are you in favor or not?" "I am in favor of the change," said Mr. Legge. At this point, the reeve turned to Mulholland who stood by and asked him about the salary. The officer called attention to the fact that York County is paying its men $2,600 a year, and he said, "I would like the same." However, he explained that if two officers were employed his pay would be $2,250 plus mileage.

Teachers Ask Higher Annual Increases

Newmarket—A letter asking for double the existing annual increases in teachers' salaries, signed by teachers in Newmarket public schools was given serious consideration at a meeting of the public schools board last Friday night.

The teachers want the annual increases, which are made until their maximum possible salary is reached, to be $200 instead of $100.

At the beginning of the year, the board raised the minimum salary for men and women teachers from $1,560 to $1,800 and the maximum from $2,200 to $2,500. Supervising principal's went from $2,000 to $3,500 and vice principals from $2,000 to $3,000. The customary annual increase until the teachers reach maximum salaries has been $100. The request from the Newmarket teachers in the letter to the board asked for the same standards as set by the Ontario Teachers' Federation.

The letter said that it had been understood that the board was to raise the increments this year. It also enclosed the salary schedule set by the federation which recommends annual increases of $200 as well as increases for special certificates from teachers' courses and other standards. The federation states that this schedule is an ideal toward which it is striving to better the teaching profession.

Mrs. M. B. Seldon, chairman of the board, said, "Our hands are tied. We raised both the minimum and maximum salaries this year." Secretary Robert Pritchard said that the board would not have the funds to raise the increments another $100 at this date. The school board budget had to be set at the beginning of the year so that the tax rate could be set. The budget had been arranged for $100 increases.

"We are sympathetic but we can't do anything about it," said Mrs. Seldon. "In fairness to the ratepayers, the adjustments should be made over a period of years," she said.

Lavatory Condition Remedied, B. of H. Told

Newmarket—The condition of the arena lavatory has been remedied according to a report from the sanitary inspector at a meeting of the board of health on Tuesday morning. "The condition had been caused because the water had been turned off," said Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, sanitary inspector.

"A member of the rink committee has promised to supply the facilities with disinfectant," he said. Mr. Burbridge also recommended that the two lavatories be separated to separate ends of the building instead of being left next door to each other.

The board also instructed Mr. Burbridge to take water tests for sanitary conditions in various streams in town where youngsters have been reported to be swimming.

Set Entries Record At Aurora Horse Show

Aurora—All reports indicate that this year's Horse Show was highly successful. The day, warm and clear, saw over 4,500 people turn out to view the show. Entries this year reached an all-time high of 401, a substantial increase over last year's 338 entries which was an all-time record.

A total of 71 classes were held this year. Ring three saw 34 draught horse classes judged while there were 21 roadsters, hackney and carriage horse classes in ring two. Sixteen riding and jumping classes were held in ring one.

Only one of the three rings showed a drop in entries over last year. This was ring two, in which entries dropped by 18. The two other rings showed an increase in entries this year over last. In ring three classes, the entries jumped from 118 last year to 128 this year. In ring one the light horse entries went from last year's 139 to 210 entries this year.

The class for the Aurora Horse Show Shield was judged the outstanding feature on the program Saturday afternoon. This class, a jumping stake, was held under FEI rules, the first time these rules have been used in Canada. Illustrative of the appeal of this class was the large number of entries. Thirty-five horses were entered in it this year as compared with ten last year.

Craigmawr Beach Assn. Protects Values

The residents of Craigmawr Beach, which is located at Keswick, formed an association September 4 of last year and set as its aims, the improvement of local parks in the area, upkeep of the entire beach at an impressive level and the building of a community spirit for the residents. Craigmawr Beach is located on a 100-acre farm operated for years by the Purdy family. The beach is actually located at Keswick between Indianola Beach and Keswick No. 1 Beach. It was occupied by approximately four cottages until four years ago, at which time the Purdy family decided to sell building lots. Practically all of the lake front property has now been sold and an attractive group of cottages has already been built. There are definite building restrictions on the beach which assure that all cottages will be built to a basic value. There are now approximately 30 cottages built and more under construction.

MORE GARDENS

 says

There are so many lovely gardens I want to tell about that I just can't keep up with myself—and again, think of all the lovely gardens I never see at all! But I want to tell about a friend's garden on Church St. which is a perfect little gem, and which reminds me so of that wonderful garden of our mutual friend, Mrs. Anne Pope, at the top of Millard Ave., west of Mr. Aubrey Davis' home. Many an enchanted hour we have both spent with her, rambling around her most wonderful garden adjoining that charming garden and rockery of Mr. Davis.

Mrs. Pope's lovely garden is now only a memory, but souvenirs still remain in many of our gardens. For instance, Mrs. Jesse Patrick said that many of her rockery flowers were gifts from Mrs. Pope. Mrs. Boag's lovely garden just north of Queensville, now in other hands, got its start from her garden—and I have a lovely French lilac, coming into full bloom, her last gift to me, and in this charming garden on Church St. there is a similar one, also the gift from our mutual friend.

I refer to Mrs. Ralph Boag and a visit to her garden would convince you that the word "charming" is the exact word to describe all the treasures contained there. As you pass along Church St. you can catch a glimpse of it—you see the flagstone walk leading down to it and the rose trellis beyond with flower borders along both sides. From early spring on, Mrs. Boag has plenty of bloom there. Early flowering bulbs—croci and snowdrops and scilla or bluebells as the children love to call them—then a succession of bloom, daffodils, tulips, narcissi, but just now she has a magnificent pink hawthorn, which the English folk call "The May" in full bloom.

Mr. Aubrey Davis has two beauties amid the bridal wreath all out in flower along the Millard Ave. border. Mrs. Boag had a pink flowering crab-tree like Mrs. Kidd's tree. Her Darwin tulips are still in bloom and she has some most beautiful iris, one a magnificent big deep yellow fellow which I especially enjoyed. Then several kinds of lupins standing up, straight as soldiers on parade. There were quite a few beauties reminiscent of our friend, Mrs. Pope, and our thoughts were constantly turning to her, for it was in May she passed on—May 22, 1938, leaving her lovely garden. I have many photos and snapshots of it—but it now is only a memory. Mrs. Boag had one border built up rockery fashion, and it was white with "Snow in Summer" which recalled Mrs. Pope's magnificent rockery with the bird bath and sundial, and the delightful lily pond with the goldfish and the big porcelain green frogs sitting on the edge, and the big turtle. We should thank God for our memories of such a beautiful garden.

Mrs. Boag has many treasures inside her little conservatory as well. She is one who certainly has the "Green Thumb." Farther along the street is another person—Mr. Baker—who has it as well, for how otherwise could he have made that barren corner of Church St. and Botsford literally "blossom like the rose," as the Scripture says? The "Green Thumb" combined with plenty of hard, hard work was what has turned that corner into a beautiful home. The lawn sloping west along Botsford would be enough to insure its beauty, with its bird bath underneath the well trimmed trees and the low cement drinking fountain for the dogs. But Mr. Baker has shrubs and flowers in ornamental urns by the sun-room at the front and you can see house plants in the sun-room along the west side.

But it is the transformation of the garden along Church St. we are all waiting impatiently. Mr. Baker has laid out a large conventional flower bed and it is full of seedling annuals. Won't it be a picture when it comes into bloom? Then what about Mr. Elgin Perrin's garden on Gorham St.? The day we went to see Mrs. Kidd's garden we stopped to chat with him as he worked among his gay display of tulips—they were a picture—and his many varieties of iris were starting—and he had many other spring beauties all in flower. There were five women flower-lovers admiring his garden when one of us called attention to a garden ornament by a currant bush well up the garden—a little black and white animal that "wasn't a kitty," as Jim Hunter humorously said—and Mr. Perrin laughingly said, "Yes, Mr. Skunk keeps the garden."

Mount Albert News

Mount Albert—The morning service at the United church, which was largely attended, was taken by the lodges of the village with the Masons in charge. Those taking part were Morley Bain, John Risebrough and Allan Crone, and Rev. Shapter was their guest speaker. He gave them much food for thought in his splendid sermon. The choir was assisted by Jas. Hammelt as soloist.

The Cheerio Ladies' Group took the evening service with their president, Mrs. H. Harmon, in charge, assisted by Mrs. Don Thompson. The guest speaker was Miss Elva Trealeaven, Reg. N., a graduate of the Baptist Seminary, who leaves in August to work among the lepers of Africa. She gave a very fine talk on how she was led to take up this work also what she expects to do after she arrives there. The Cheerio choir was assisted by Miss Freda Thompson of Toronto and Mrs. Coates. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Price spent the weekend in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawson.

Miss Etta Stokes and Frank Stokes, Toronto, visited their mother, Mrs. W. D. Stokes, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Stokes motored to Hanover on Saturday to visit Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Stokes over Sunday.

Mrs. W. Ross, who has spent the winter at Orillia, has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Rennie.

Mr. Fred Franklin is confined to bed through illness for a few weeks at his home in town.

Mrs. J. Case is in York County hospital.

Mrs. Boden was brought home on Friday from the General hospital in Toronto where she had been taken with a fractured hip.

Mr. Ira Morton was brought home from the Western hospital, Toronto, on Saturday and will be at York County hospital for some time yet.

Attend W.M.S. Meeting
 Mrs. Carruthers, Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Shapter and Mrs. Steeper attended the meeting of the W.M.S. rural gathering of Toronto East Presbytery at Sandford United church on Wednesday last. A special speaker was Miss Werner, a missionary of Trinidad who gave a very full account of the island and her work in a girls' school there. The Sandford ladies were hostesses.

Horticultural Sunday
 Next Sunday, June 19, will be Horticultural Sunday and Rev. L. S. Paisley of Stroud will be the guest speaker. Anyone having flowers for decoration should come along on Saturday afternoon.

York Pioneers Picnic At Sharon Opens Temple

Sharon—That the musical instruments in the Sharon Temple and Museum were of outstanding historical interest as the first of their kind in this part of Canada, let alone York county, was pointed out by Rev. R. W. B. Pugh, of Roche's Point, at the annual picnic of the York Pioneer and Historical Society on Saturday at Sharon. Mr. Pugh, himself an organist and specialist in church music, reminded the large gathering that David Willson's conception, as opposed to that of his Quaker friends, of the place of music in worship, was mainly responsible for Sharon being the musical centre it was a century ago.

J. T. Jenkins, assistant principal of Jarvis Street C.I., Toronto, gave an address on pioneer days in northern York, particularly the township of King whose first settlers were mainly Scotch. R. M. Willmott, president of the Governor Simcoe Branch of the U.E.L. Association, spoke on behalf of that body. Miss Catherine Beamish of the York township public schools staff, appealed for information on the beginnings of local Women's Institutes. As a descendant of Donald Cameron who came to Upper Canada in 1819 settling first in Caledon and later in Vaughan, Miss Beamish illustrated the life of pioneer days by telling of her ancestor having to tramp from Thornhill to Caledon with the neighborhood supply of salt in a bag on his back. After four years in Caledon his young wife, Christine McEwen, who came with him from Scotland, died and was buried in their clearing in the woods.

With the assistance of Sharon Women's Institute a picnic supper was served and grace was said by Rev. H. L. Puxley. Dr. L. B. Williams, president of the society, acted as chairman, and Major J. C. Boylen, vice-president, in a speech of thanks to the speakers, recalled Mr. Jenkins' long family connection with northern York and that Mr. Jenkins in the first great war went into his home township of King and recruited the platoon he commanded in the 127th Battalion.

This annual gathering marked the official opening of the Museum for the season. Alan Shaw of Sharon has succeeded Mr. W. Fountain as curator, due to Mr. Fountain's retirement because of ill health. The day was concluded by a softball match arranged by L. J. Farr between local teams.

glimpse over the fence of Miss Kathleen Widdfield's lovely sloping lawn and bird baths and borders of flowers. Then at the top of Water St. was a large border of tulips.

Soon it will be too hot to get around and enjoy other folks' gardens so I'll have to stay home and enjoy my own. I assure you I do really enjoy watching the birds at the bird bath, and I don't mind one bit that I have to scrub it out every day or so, and sometimes fill it up twice a day, for the robins do make the water fly when they start splashing about in it. I have had dear little canaries come for a drink and a bath quite often—and humming birds too. If you haven't a bird bath make yourself one—the birds will appreciate it and will repay you many times over.

C.W. fee, Queen Mary Cot. etc., and when these are sent out to the federation body and honorariums of $30 to the president; $50 to the secretary-treasurer paid; a small balance will be left to divide between the new districts. SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY.

"Chemistry?.. I DON'T HANDLE IT!"

YOUR STOREKEEPER may think he doesn't handle chemistry, but everything he sells from costume jewelry to refrigerators, is in whole or in part, a chemical product.

Chemistry is a vital factor in fabrics and foods, leather and toys. It's at the cosmetic counter and in the hardware department. You find it more and more whenever you shop—as nylon hosiery, fabrics and bristles, in new plastic articles and as "Cellophane" wrappings to protect goods and make them more attractive.

The chemical industry never stands still. It continues to create new useful products and to improve many old ones. It contributes to the well-being of all of us... with the C-I-L, oval the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance... RODANT
 Rats are clever and hard to kill... they have long been a destructive, disease-carrying scourge... but chemistry is resourceful. It comes up now with "Rodant", a tasteless poison—deadly to the common rat. It is a product of Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

Chief of the "Bureau" at the city hall in Toronto ever since its inception Wilf Bowles was known and respected by hundreds of young newspapermen who served their trick under him. The "Bureau" was established by the Toronto Star and the Evening Telegram, and staffed by both papers, to report court and routine city hall activities, and to maintain a 24-hour watch on police and fire news.

Because of the variety of its work, it became something of a training school for young reporters. We were transferred there shortly after joining the Star in 1943 and put in almost a year on that beat before returning to the Star for general reporting. In the time we were at the Bureau we developed a hearty respect for Wilf Bowles and so it was with real regret we read of his recent death.

Wilf Bowles was one of that breed of newspapermen which is rapidly becoming extinct. He had grown up in the newspaper business, worked in it during its period of greatest expansion. Born in Orangeville, he became a reporter on the Dufferin Post at an early age, and in rapid succession, worked on the Brantford Expositor, the old Toronto World, the Toronto Globe and finally returned to the Dufferin Post as editor. He left the Post for The World and finally, in 1910, he joined the Toronto Telegram, then edited by John Ross Robertson.

Those were the days when a good deal of the glamor which surrounds the newspaper business was compounded. Things were not the same 30 years later, Wilf used to tell us with a reminiscent glow in his eyes. Newspapers had not then become the mass produced products they are now. More deference was paid individual effort. Reporters were given greater leeway to find their news. They didn't operate in teams with unlimited budgets. Weeks of individual effort went into some of the stories which were printed. Without the almost instantaneous communications of the present day, editors were less concerned with the events beyond the borders of the province and the emphasis was on local news. There was a rivalry between papers, to be sure, but it seemed without the back-biting which nowadays has turned Toronto press circles into a cockpit.

Wilf carried with him an atmosphere of those days of the past, and from the storehouse of his memory brought forth recollections which in their telling had pertinent application to a misdeed or foolish aspiration of some young cub. Fond as he was of the past, however, Wilf was quite capable of handling the emergencies of the present as his long service with the Bureau indicates. The court and police beats have more than their share of difficulties in reporting but Wilf was never at loss and the record of his Bureau was a constant source of pride to him.

As we write, we can remember Wilf as we first saw him, a grey-haired man with a slightly harassed look, an introduction proving himself courteous and a considerate chief. He taught us a lot for which we are grateful but the happiest memory we have of him was of his kindly personality. His death will be mourned by hundreds who worked for him, and countless others who knew him.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

About 20 young people were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Little one evening last week, according to the files of 25 years ago, when they presented Miss Theo Squires a bride-to-be, with a miscellaneous shower. The evening was spent in music, games and singing after which lunch was served.

The days of the old "Sharon Feast" of the Children of Peace were recalled last Saturday by the large crowd that gathered on the old temple grounds where they celebrated the 144th anniversary of the birth of David Wilson, the architect of the temple and the founder of the original society. It was announced that the legacy left by the late Wm. Crocker, immediate past-president, would be expended in placing portraits of past officers of the association in Sharon Temple.

Mr. Oral Hall graduated with honors from the Royal College of Dental Surgeons.

There was a big crowd of people on the market Saturday but not as much produce as usual, according to the files of 50 years ago. Butter and eggs were the principal commodities, butter selling from 11 to 13 cents a lb. and eggs 11 and 12 cents, but before the market was over sold at ten cents a doz. Chickens were 40 cents a pair and there were few potatoes at 75 cents a bag.

The Editorials:

Farmers Suffer From Drought

Perhaps when this appears, the drought will have been broken but at the moment, the weather forecasts are not encouraging. Even should there be rain, the damage has been done. The combination of hot, dry days and frosty nights has ruined some garden crops, severely damaged others. The hay crop, upon the success of which a sound economy for many farmers is so dependent, is reported the worst in many years. A farmer near Pleasantville says his is the worst in 50 years, four acres to a load.

Already, related effects of the drought are obvious. Cattle shippers report heavy shipments of cattle to the butchers as farmers, faced with heavy costs of supplementary feed, send their livestock in for quick sale. Even as they do, they are forcing down their prices by the quantity of their shipments. Yet to keep their livestock means gambling heavy feed costs against doubtful increases in consumer prices later on.

The urban areas too are effected by the dryness. In Newmarket, householders have been appealed to by the water committee to conserve water in every way possible. As the temperature has soared, the demand for water has soared with it, straining the wells which serve the town.

There is no way of averting dry spells, any more than there is of damming a heavy rain, but if conservation had been practised about Newmarket, the effect of the prolonged dryness could have been lessened. The land would have been better watered, better able to withstand a dry spell. Nothing can restrain the inconsistencies of nature, but man by following the practices of conservation can cushion the effects of her extremes.

Support Wood Cutting Law

The Newmarket town council is to be congratulated upon its support of a statute to police wood cutting in York. The province has this legislation but to be applicable, it must be adopted by county council. Several counties have applied the legislation but York county council has voted it down in the past. It now appears that the question is to be raised again and if it is, there will be at least two strong advocates of it, both on their own behalf and as representatives of the Newmarket council, in the persons of Reeve Arthur Evans and Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette.

The legislation, although it does not go as far as conservationists would have it, is at least a step in the right direction. Its purpose is to perpetuate the forest cover without reducing its yield of firewood and lumber by means of correct cutting methods. It encourages the planting of new forest cover in those areas made desolate by indiscriminate destruction of trees.

The necessity of such legislation is immediately obvious. The maintenance of forest cover is necessary to the maintenance of water supplies, to wild life, and as a source of lumber and firewood to its owner. Supervised cutting can continue to yield the latter while serving the former. With this so readily demonstrated, there seems no reason why the county council should hesitate to adopt the necessary legislation.

Drew's Fancies

Mr. Drew's Toronto supporters reported his charges of an armament scandal like Chicago tabloids. Their front pages bulged with screaming black headlines. The Telegram even contributed a picture of Sir Basil Zaharoff, notorious armament manufacturer, dead for 15 years. But by Tuesday, the pages of these papers were fairly quit of the burden of reporting Mr. Drew's latest attempt to discredit the government with flights of fancy after his failure on legitimate issues. Our bet is that the "arms scandal" has gone the way of Mr. Drew's North Star issue—into the limbo reserved for such nonsense.

Briefly, Mr. Drew charged that the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe sold Canadair to a member of an international armament ring, that Canadair was sold far below the price Canadian manufacturers would have paid, that the government kept the arrangement secret. What does the record say? The Electric Boat Co., purchaser of Canadair, was given a clean bill of health by the United States government. Mr. Howe stated that an effort was made to locate Canadian purchasers, but none would pay the price nor accept the risk of operating the plant. If Mr. Drew does indeed know of would-be Canadian purchasers, he has yet to name them. But of all his charges, the one of secrecy is the most ridiculous. A full report of the transaction was given parliament two years ago. Mr. Drew gave quite an account of how he traced his evidence as far back as the early 1930's. He withheld his charges until last week when he was sure of his facts, so he says. It seems a lot of trouble when 20 minutes with Hansard of 1947 would have told him what he wanted to know.

It is hard to believe that the publicity given the transaction at the time could have escaped Mr. Drew, keen student that he is of national affairs. One wonders why, if knowing these facts and still believing the arrangement unseemly, he did not bring it up in parliament instead of wasting his time there calling people names.

Second Annual Pilgrimage

On Sunday, June 19, the Newmarket Veterans' Association will sponsor the second annual Pilgrimage of veterans to the memorial at the Veterans' Plot in Newmarket cemetery. The memorial was dedicated last year by Major Foote, V.C., before one of the largest crowds to ever assemble in Newmarket. Present for that occasion were veterans from all over the southern part of Ontario, and from the United States. This year, an even larger parade is anticipated and Major Gen. Chris. Vokes will take the salute. Guest speaker will be Rev. Sidney Lambert, former padre at Christie Street Hospital and known and loved by thousands of veterans.

The sponsoring organization, Newmarket Veterans' Association, undertook what some felt to be an overly-ambitious project when they set forth to erect the memorial and beautify the Veterans' Plot. Their success with this project was well deserved. The pilgrimages to it have become an annual feature of Newmarket life, one which is most acceptable.

Honor For Hannam

The election of Mr. H. H. Hannam to the presidency of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers is an honor for Canada and more particularly, Canadian farmers. As president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, Mr. Hannam spoke for most Canadian farmers at the Guelph conference which elected him, so it is only natural that the farmers share in this recognition.

In his new office, Mr. Hannam faces problems which in the past have been insurmountable. Fundamental to a lasting peace is the ending of hunger in the world. The International Federation of Agricultural Producers is dedicated to travelling this "real path to peace". There is no lack of approaches. Hunger is caused by the impoverishment of soil, antiquated methods of farming, faulty distribution of surpluses to those in need, natural and man-made disaster.

Canadians attended the conference with proposals to erase at least one of the causes of hunger, the present inadequate distribution of surpluses to those in need. Canada proposed the establishment of a food bank, an international organization through which those countries in need of food but lacking the price, could purchase their wants from those countries with surpluses without disturbing the structure of agricultural prices. This proposal, combined with a similar one from the United States, was adopted in principle by the conference.

With the conference's endorsement, it will be up to Mr. Hannam to lead the way in working out the details for the establishment of a food bank, and that done, to sell the proposal to governments. It seems an impossible task, so huge are the problems which must be faced. Yet it must be done if there is to be a lasting peace.

Just Like 22 Points

The results of a public opinion poll, published recently in the Toronto Star, show Mr. Drew a poor second best to Mr. St. Laurent as choice of premier. Mr. Drew is now promising a full investigation into public opinion polls. It is apparently inconceivable to Mr. Drew that he should be second choice, therefore something must be wrong with the polls.

Demanding enquiries into all institutions he finds personally offensive is a campaign tactic Mr. Drew has taken with him from Ontario into the federal arena. In his 22-point provincial campaign, Mr. Drew promised all manner of royal commissions and enquiries. Some of them never materialized; some commissions like the forestry commission published their reports but their findings were not acted upon. The Hope commission on education has yet to bring in its report although it has been sitting some five years or so.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

The rats from the north end dump have long been warring with the rats from the Widdifield park area at the south end of town. There have been furious political squabbles about territorial rights and since the Fairley Lake excavations a cold war has developed. Peace talks have been at a stand still.

Last week a new high was reached in the political bickering when the Hon. Gregory Kingpin, member from the Waterworks riding, uncovered the scandalous "Sling Shot case" in which some of the highest officials in ratocracy were linked with a ring of international sling shot racketeers.

Interviewed in his three-star oil drum estate in high class Fairley Lake subdivision, Kingpin recently commented: "The old days of rum running on the maritime coast had nothing on this infamous stain on our traditional heritage. We must get back to the days when politics made sense. Harumph!" Kingpin is leader of the rightists.

I, personally, boss, had an exclusive interview with Kingpin. He claims that the honorable member from Charles St. Sewer, a leader of the middle of the roadists who are slightly socialized, has been making secret arms deals with these international sling shot racketeers.

"It's iniquitous and insidious and fastidious among other things," bellowed Hon. Gregory Kingpin in his usual press conference temper. Names mentioned, to be linked with the silver tongued orator from Charles St. Sewer, were Sir Oswald Ketchelovsky, international munitions baron who died 20 years ago, and Samuel Blitz, head of the Acme Roller Skate Co.

When I asked Kingpin what kind of sling shots the south end rats used for national defense, he threw me out in a burst of rage, shouting, "How dare you criticize me!"

Being an unbiased political observer, I called on the honorable member from Charles St. who opened a filing cabinet and delivered me "Speech No. 197A—With Vehemence".

Along with other platitudes, he said, "It is those bloated capitalists that are causing the trouble and it is high time we liquidated those red tinged numbskulled idiots in their ivory towers. As for the sling shot case, it's preposterous."

In the meantime the Daily Shirkers, "voice of the wilderness" and organ of the extreme leftists on the barren plains of the north end dump, editorialized, "Everything is nothing, but a huge imperialistic plot to overthrow us minorities. After all, we are the real democracy. Anyone of us who doesn't believe in democracy is immediately shot."

The rat world is fraught with political fever, personalities pitched against personalities, with intrigue to boot. But will the sling shot case ever be solved? Who is to blame? Who knows?—Who cares?

A sad thing has occurred in the composing room. One of the linotypists has taken to eating pencils. She moves furtively about the place collecting great quantities of them and hides them in a paper bag. Then she goes down into a dark corner in the basement and crunches them up and spits out the brass heads. She has an insatiable appetite for any pencil; no pencil is too small; none too big. Like a wild carnivore of the jungle, she is never satisfied. We have the darndest time keeping pencils around this place.

Our farm leaders have been telling farmers how important grass and hay are to the farm economy. We farmers are beginning to understand what it would be like to have a short grass and hay crop. Today as this is written the prospect for grass and hay is not good. The pasture is as dry at the first of June as it would ordinarily be in September, and the hay in some fields is so short that it can not be harvested. The farmer can plan for dry weather in the fall. The new seeds can be pastured, and corn fed green, but when we have dry weather in the spring and no grass and very little hay, there is only one way out for the farmer: the breeding stock will have to be put over the scales.

A friend of mine said that will be cheaper meat. True, the greater the supply, the price will come down to the farmer if not to the consumer. It is also true when the farmer gets a good crop and starts to replace the breeding stock, the price will go up again. Our farm leaders ask the farmers not to become panicky and sell the breeding stock. Some of our political leaders should spend some of their energy on how to hold the moisture in our country, instead of so much talk about what they are going to do when they form a government. We want to get reforesting and conservation out of print. Every party has reforesting and conservation in its platform. But they are just so many words.

We know that trees are being cut faster than the government nursery can supply them. We can take good productive farm land, cut farms in two to build a super highway, but our governments have not the courage to pass an order to control the cutting of our trees. We can not blame the lack of rain on our political leaders.

To the farmer, feed for his stock comes first, not interest in the election. Everything has some good points. A short crop means we will not have to worry about surplus or an export market.

Last year a ploughshare, weight seven pounds, cost 90 cents. Today the same ploughshare costs $1.50. We know that the cost of steel is up but that raise is too high. A few acres of ploughing and that ploughshare became scrap at less than one-half a cent per lb.

We farmers can read the election literature and the good things that we are going to get. We will forget the dry weather and short crop and selling our breeding stock. Low food prices for the people in town and higher prices for the farmer—how the slack is to be taken up it does not say. Elections would not be right if we did not receive some kind of promises.

How far would a party get if it came out on a platform and put first things first—start to put the top six inches of soil in shape? See that only trees that had their growth were cut and for every tree cut one tree planted. The removal of any farmer who is robbing the land. At least half the land in hay and grass. Farmers to be paid wages as high as any other group. Two weeks' holidays with pay. How many votes would this party get? Cheerio.

In this campaign Mr. Drew has demanded enquiries right and left, but the sincerity of his demands may be questioned on his Ontario record, and parties clearly when directed against certain institutions like public opinion polls when the purpose obviously is to save a wounded vanity.

Foote-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE

AURORA EDITOR

At its last meeting the Aurora council considered the closing of all Aurora restaurants at 1 a.m. each night. This move, which is aimed directly at the Aurora Coffee Shop, arose out of a recent Aurora Police Commission meeting at which it was proposed that a by-law be passed requiring all restaurants to close at the desired hour.

It was found, however, that such a by-law was beyond the power of council. Council thereupon decided that Les Beazer, proprietor of the Aurora Coffee Shop, and requested to close his restaurant at the designated hour. He is also to be requested to make certain changes in the manner of his business operation. He is to be informed that any refusal on his part to comply with these requests will be met with the cancellation of his restaurant license.

It is the contention of the police commission, following a report by Chief Dunham, that the possibility of gang wars and youth riots at Musselman's Lake and Lake Wilcox is greater this year than before. They believe that any restaurant open in Aurora after 1 a.m. will draw these youngsters to Aurora where fights and riots might take place. In addition, Chief Dunham, according to the commission report, is compelled so long as Mr. Beazer's grill is open to park all night at the corner of Wellington St. and Yonge in order to watch for trouble.

The end does not necessarily justify the means used to attain it. Council holds that it would be in the best interests of the town to have all restaurants close at 1 a.m. We contend that their proposed methods of bringing this about would not serve the best interests of the town. It should not be necessary to stoop to strong-arm tactics.

Aurora's restaurants are run by private businessmen. They, and not the council, are the ones to determine not only their hours but their menus, the number of waiters and waitresses each employs, the brand of their coffee and the choice of their chefs.

On the other hand, council can and should request that all businesses be operated in a manner in keeping with the welfare of the town. If a restaurant is violating the law or its license, council may close it.

The council has not the authority to regulate the hours of restaurants. To assume this authority and attempt to enforce its will with the threat of an arbitrary restaurant license cancellation is to abuse power and privilege. Aurora does not want this, nor does its council.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: From your note which you inserted at the conclusion of my letter of last week I can only suppose that you consider me either guilty of prevarication or sufficiently lacking in gray matter as to prevent my digestion of the facts of a simple editorial.

Having, as you suggested, given the involved editorial unwarranted consideration, I can arrive only at my original conclusion; that is, that you charge that in spite of the claim of the CCF party that it receives no financial backing from big business and therefore is the only party free to give utmost service in measures of health, housing and security, that the Liberal government has done all of what CCF promises to do but without the employment of state control. You quote figures and instances to substantiate your charge.

I see no distortion of fact when I maintain: 1. that I question both the wisdom and the orthodoxy of your attacking a paid advertisement; 2. that Armitage Heights cannot be classed as a low-rental project; 3. that old age pensions are inadequate; 4. that there is no national health insurance; 5. that state control is not the green-eyed monster that you seem to fear. If it were, areas such as Sweden, Saskatchewan, New Zealand and England would have thrown out their socialist government; 6. that never having been fortunate enough to have been governed by a socialist body, none of us is in a position to judge its merits justly; 7. that your charge is not adequately substantiated and there is room for the improvements offered by CCF in their advertisement.

Mary Holbrook.

Kettleby W.M.S. Told Value of Missionary Work

Kettleby — The W.A. and W.M.S. of the Kettleby United church met in the hall June 7 at 3 p.m. with the president, Mrs. Anson McCluskie, in charge. The W.A. limited its meeting to business in courtesy to the W.M.S. special meeting. The meetings for the month of July have been cancelled.

Mrs. Wm. Hodgson presided over the W.M.S., assisted in the worship period by Mrs. Harry Burns, Mrs. A. E. Blatchford and Mrs. G. W. Cambourne. The president of Toronto Centre Presbyterian, Mrs. S. L. Fear, was guest speaker.

Mrs. Fear told a very interesting story illustrating the great satisfaction we get from giving our best to any project we set our hearts to. She also told of a marvellous hospital and college in India which had their beginning on a very few dollars, but great faith of a lady doctor from Toronto who went there as a missionary. Mrs. Fear said there is a great challenge today for missionary advance, but that any chain is only as strong as its weakest link. We must be sure that our links are strong.

Mrs. Jerry Black sang a very beautiful solo, "Trust in the Lord." Mrs. Jack Lepard, the supply secretary, had a lovely display of quilts and a layette for the babe. We were all pleased that Mrs. Cragg could be out for awhile this afternoon, and trust that she will soon be completely restored.

After the meeting an abundant and most delicious supper was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Burns, Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mrs. Leland Heacock and Mrs. Anson McCluskie.

CLOSED—FOR EFFICIENCY

Your pharmacist is not a superman. Like you, he requires a certain amount of sleep and recreation so that he may function efficiently for his community. That is why, late at night, or on a Sunday, you may find the lights of your pharmacy out, the door locked.

There are sound reasons why every pharmacy cannot remain open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Whether your pharmacist works alone or is assisted by other pharmacists, his professional duties require exacting care and mental alertness—conditions he cannot fulfill if he works lengthy hours, day after day.

Like every other individual, your pharmacist requires rest and relaxation after his strenuous duties. Yet in cases of real emergency—when his science and skills are needed to preserve or save life—you will find him eager to serve with every weapon in his professional arsenal.—Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

 family affair

YOUR FUTURE ... AND CANADA'S

Conditions have been good the last few years. More people are working than ever before — making more, spending more, saving more.

Isn't that what you want? After all, you have a family to think about ... and you are planning for their future ...

The Liberals are planning and working for your family's future too.

Here are some of the things the Liberals are doing:

Family Allowances are increased. Already a billion dollars has been invested in Canada's children. Millions of boys and girls are better clothed, fed and housed — have a better chance for an education and a real start in life — because of this Liberal measure. It has brought new security and well-being to countless Canadian homes.

In housing, too, the Liberals have taken the lead in providing Canadians with decent homes. More homes have been built in Canada, in relation to population, than in any nation. Already a million Canadians live in homes built since the war. The Liberal government is ready to help solve the low-rental housing problem and has offered its cooperation to provinces and municipalities.

Then, there is the Liberal health program. Already federal grants are helping the provinces to increase their health services. But the Liberals' aim is a nation-wide contributory health insurance plan which will end, for everyone, the tragedy of inadequate health care and the financial strain of lengthy illness.

Or take employment. Liberal measures are helping to maintain employment in Canada at record levels, and at the same time unemployment insurance reserves have been building up. The government has encouraged enterprise and high production. Plants have expanded, new industries started up. New opportunities are being created every day.

Old Age Pensions and pensions for the blind have been steadily increased by the Liberal government. But it isn't stopping there. Its aim is a nation-wide plan of contributory pensions which will help everyone to enjoy a comfortable and secure old age — automatically and as a right.

These are all part of the Liberal program of social betterment ... a program to achieve a "national standard of social security and human welfare which assures the greatest possible measure of social justice to all Canadians".

Seek Water Guarantee, Accept Bridge Plans

Sharon—The regular meeting of the municipal council of East Gwillimbury for the month of June was held in the municipal hall at Sharon. Constable J. E.
Jardine has been granted 25c for each fox examined for bounty.

The trustees of Mount Albert police village have made application through the council for five extra street lights. The clerk has been instructed to request the town of Newmarket to give a guarantee to supply water to residents of Bolton Ave. and Lundy Lane, and to have the by-law approved by the municipal board.

The council ordered the installation of a telephone in the municipal hall. The bounty of $3 for foxes and $10 for wolves has been renewed to the end of 1919. All animals must be inspected within seven days of the time they are killed.

Due to the loss of machinery
by fire the Holman Construction
Co. has requested the council to cancel their contract for gravel crushing. R. M. Cox Construction has agreed to take over the Holman contract and has moved its crushing plant into the municipality.

Murray Associates Ltd. Engineering Co. presented a blue print of the proposed cement bridge at the corner of Queens-ville side road and Dalhousie
St. The plans were accepted and the road superintendent was authorized to advertise for tenders.

A by-law was passed making the Line Fence Act apply to unoccupied lands when they adjoin occupied lands. Accounts passed: fox bounty, $79, roads, $3-232.95; relief, $40.85; chairs for hall, $155; dental grant to schools, $204.80; sheep claim, cil will be held Saturday, July toast to the King; Olive Cameron proposed the toast to the sponded to by District Deputy

Mrs. Sherring of Stroud. Fran-visitors and was responded to by Elsie Jebb of Orillia.

George Thompson read the minutes of the meeting of Sim-

Jessie McDonald gave a resume of the Chapter touching on in-

Newmarket, Ontario,
June 9th, 1949.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Citizen:

You are cordially invited to attend an informal evening tea at the King George Hotel, Newmarket, on Monday, June 20th, at 8.30 p.m. The Progressive-Conservative candidate, Mr. Arthur Walwyn, and Mrs. Walwyn will be present and they hope to have the opportunity of meeting as many of his supporters as possible.

Since it is obviously impossible for this Committee personally to get in touch with everyone who might be interested, we would greatly appreciate your extending this invitation to anyone who might care to attend.

Yours sincerely,
Newmarket Progressive-Conservative Women's Association.

President,
DOROTHY HOPE;
Secretary,
FLOESSIE S. LITTLE.

The Common Round . . .

By Isabel Inglis Colville

HIGHLIGHTS HERE AND THERE

Rev. Warren in giving his welcoming address to the W.I. members present at the District Annual at Queensville said, among other things, "I understand that when women get together, they talk about other women." So, I am going to talk about women for a few minutes and in connection with the W.I.

Never before had I been so impressed at a W.I. meeting with the need for diplomacy, patience, knowledge and faith in the underlying soundness of women's views as I was at the District Annual this year. There were two rather vexing questions on the agenda, the division of the district into north and central York and the why of changing the 25 cent yearly fee of long standing to the 50 cent fee of today.

Watching Miss Lewis' handling of these knotty problems, especially the division, which I personally resented, I felt that by the time she had smoothed our ruffled feathers, she could at any time apply for a position in an embassy and have at least 200 ardent ladies to support her application.

I ended up by feeling my personal reason for disliking the division was a selfish one—I hated to think of missing many of the faces that year after year made the D.A. more like a friendly re-union than a strictly business meeting. But I am a convert, even if a somewhat reluctant one, because the work entailed on district secretary and president where 24 Institutes are concerned is practically impossible. Mrs. Corner told of the number of Institutes she visited and the impossibility of visiting all and convenor of a standing committee can tell you how trying it is to get up a report when the reports they are waiting for fail to materialize. What, then, of our district secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Sinclair, who has to have financial statements and have her books audited—even one statement lacking as there was this year makes a second auditing a necessity. So one felt that the division was a sad necessity. I heard a good many speak against the changing of the fee, but as it was an accomplished fact and as everything has gone up one felt a graceful acceptance was in order.

The expanding work of the Institute was shown in the reports of the standing committees—there seems to be no worthwhile work that the Institute is not actively engaged in.

In the morning a Sharon children's group sang sweetly and in the afternoon Mr. Harris brought 14 of his vocalists to delight us. There was a delightful descent, too, and then two solos by little Donna Case who captured her audience completely. Donna has the makings of a prima donna—no pun intended—and I for one shall watch her career with more than casual interest. Mrs. Ross Armitage asked that this group might be asked to sing at the area convention in December at the Royal York. As no women's meeting would be complete without "eats", let me say here that the luncheon served by the Queensville ladies was everything a luncheon should be and added a real note of enjoyment to the day.

A tribute was paid to Mr. Meyer of The Era and Express who in co-operation with Mrs. Murrell, Queensville, instituted a W.I. column. We of this district are proud of an editor who has pioneered in this line.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Can't Learn Too Young

Linda, two-and-a-half years old, should be learning some respect for authority. From the very beginning, Linda has shown signs of development beyond her age. It was difficult to ever think of her as a baby. She seemed to be born with ideas and the initiative to put them to work.

A great deal of attention has been given to the budding little genius and she delights in showing off. However, it is very apparent that her parents have no control over their child. She thinks she is as smart, if not smarter, than the other people she meets and proceeds to have her own way about everything.

For instance, while her parents were discussing ways of punishing Linda for poking forks in electric light sockets, she continued this prank in some other part of the house. When discovered and questioned as to why she was a naughty girl, Linda replied, "Daddy said I'd be sorry some day. I'm not sorry."

Actually the business of parents making an issue of everything a child does really confuses a child as to relative importance of the things he does. Sometimes, it's much better to note silently evidence of intelligence in the child rather than make a conceited exhibitionist of him.

It is confusing to the child to have his parents differ as to what treatment should be extended to him. In order to instill respect for parents within the child, parents should respect each other—if only as an example for the child. Authority, to be effective, must be worthy of its responsibilities.

Later, when the child enters school — there is need for the child to respect his teachers. Parents can help the child by showing their own respect for the child's teacher.

Throughout life there is need for respect for authority and the child can't learn too young if he is to develop into a self-respecting, law-abiding citizen, whose individual life is an asset rather than a liability to his community.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

Recently we were sent a copy of an article, "1949 Hills and Valleys", by Mrs. Major C. Clitheroe, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, Newmarket. Appearing in the February issue of "The War Cry", it described the countryside surrounding Anchorage, Alaska, and linked it up so well with the common problems of every-day living that we re-print it here in its entirety.

"Anchorage, Alaska, is bounded on three sides by mountain ridges. Their bases vary in distance from 30 to 40 miles, across the breadth of the plateau on which Anchorage stands. Sometimes they seem to be very remote; at other times, the sun outlines each ridge of snow or mountain peak and each valley between, so they appear quite near and accessible for those who would climb them.

"The beauty of the mountain ridges of Alaska is unsurpassed in any part of the world. Their glories are ever-changing—appearing green, brown, black, purple or white, as the sun plays upon them. At times they are painted by rays of the setting sun. To the unsophisticated, 'pink mountains' are as incongruous as 'pink elephants'. But to those who can read their moods, mountains reveal definite characteristics.

"Across the arm of the ocean which bounds the fourth side of Anchorage, is a long, low mountain named 'The Sleeping Lady'. There she lies, quite easily discernible, silhouetted against the blue sky, with the outline of her flowing hair over the pillow, her broad forehead and her clasped hands, her long flowing robes revealing a suggestion of a dainty toe beneath. In winter, dazzling snow makes her ghost-like. In summer she speaks of repose and quiet, and as we gaze upon her from a great many vantage points on our busy streets, she brings a sense of peace to jagged and over-wrought nerves. For as one looks across at her beauty, she appears realistic, beautiful and soul-satisfying, and we are made to understand the words of the Psalmist: 'As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so is the Lord round about His people'. To look towards the hills is to lift the eyes from earth's sordidness to Heaven's serenity and there find help. 'I will lift up mine eyes to the hills, from whence cometh my help'.

"The valleys, too, are intriguing, for without them there would be no mountains! They, too, have lessons to teach. The valleys vary as greatly as the mountains in this part of the world. Large, small; narrow, wide; snow-encrusted or glacier-encasing—they, too, have their personalities. In them is found the fertile farm lands, nestled close to the mountain base. Into their bosom has been swept the gold nuggets from the hills above, to become available to man. Through them move the enriching streams, roaring and thundering from the heights above, or quietly flowing to the open sea. In them pervades an atmosphere of rest to body, mind and heart.

"To the young, the energetic, and exultant souls, valleys oftentimes present fear, gloom and despair—experiences through which they are loathe to pass, even in their progress to the higher regions beyond. But the God of the mountains is also the God of the valleys, and His presence can make the valley experiences blessed, bright and hopeful. 'Lo, I am with you always,' He has promised—not only above, but also below. With Him the valley can be beautiful.

"In the valley of sickness, we can prove His grace to be sufficient. In the valley of difficulty we may take stock of our experiences and see our weaknesses in the light of Heaven. We contemplate our motives and learn to pray for the best—God's will and our willingness to walk therein. Even in the Valley of the Shadow of Death, we may 'fear no evil', for He is with us there. 'At evening time, it shall be light.' "During the journey of life man can not walk continuously on the heights. He must pass through valleys for retrospection, introspection and heart searching—the 'know thyself' chambers where man may face himself with his Maker with verity and in the light of eternity. Then he shall reach the mountain peaks for outlook, uplook and exultation, and gain the restoration of a sense of balance and proportion in a world of false weights and measures."

For Quick Summer Desserts

Dessert is the trimming of the meal. Most people feel that it takes a dessert to top off the meal regardless of how satisfying the main course may be. Cornstarch and quick-cooking tapioca desserts require little time in preparation and may be made in great variety, using seasonal fruits.

Fruit whip is another type of dessert which is simple, quick and delicious.

Home-made or commercial tea biscuit or pastry mixes are minute savers. All ready to add the liquid when required to form the basis of short cake or delicious fruit pie, they offer a great variety of speed-up ideas for good desserts.

SUMMER PUDDING

2 Cups crushed berries
1/2 Cup sugar
6 Slices of bread
Crush berries, measure and add sugar and stir well. Remove crusts from bread and line a mould with the slices. Fill centre with alternate layers of bread and fruit ending with bread. Cover with a saucer and weigh down. Chill 2 hours or longer. Turn out and serve with additional whole berries. Yield: 6 servings. Stewed sweetened rhubarb or frozen berries may be used in place of fresh berries.

CHERRY WHIP

1 Cup sour cherry pulp (about 2 cups pitted cherries)

2 Egg whites
Pinch of salt
1/2 Cup sugar
Wash, stem and pit cherries. Crush or chop to a fine pulp. Drain. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff and gradually add the sugar. Beat to a light meringue, add cherry pulp and mix thoroughly with rotary beater. Pile lightly in a serving dish or individual dishes. Chill thoroughly and serve, garnished with whole cherries. Yield: six servings.

QUICK CARMEL CUSTARD

4 Eggs
1/2 Cup white sugar
1 Tsp. salt
3 Cups milk
1/2 Tsp. vanilla
2/3 Cup light brown sugar
Beat eggs until light. Add sugar and salt, blending well. Scald milk and slowly add to egg mixture. Add flavoring. Beat custard mixture until well blended. Sift brown sugar and place it in the bottom of one large, greased baking dish or 6 greased individual moulds, packing it down well. Carefully pour custard over sugar. Place the baking dish in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until custard is firm and a silver knife inserted in the centre comes out clean, about 50 minutes. Or cook in a pressure saucepan for 3 minutes, cool immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

St. George's Inspired By Pioneers

St. George's Sibbald Memorial church at Jackson's Point will be 110 years old on August 26 of this year. The centre of the community life of the area since it was first settled, the church stands amongst a grove of shady trees overlooking the southern shore of Lake Simcoe.

During the early 1830's there were a few settlers in and around Jackson's Point. Among these were John Mills Jackson, after whom the point was named. Gathering his neighbors for a meeting, John Mills Jackson proposed that they build a church. All felt the great need for the church but funds were scarce and progress was slow.

In 1835 Mrs. Susan Sibbald, who came from England to visit her two sons pioneering near Orillia, first visited Jackson's Point. Struck by the beauty of the scenery she purchased a point just east of Jackson's Point, which she called Sibbald's Point. She returned soon to construct a home there, Eildon Hall, in memory of her home in Roxburghshire, England.

Gave Assistance
She, too, realized the need for a church and threw her whole energy behind it as well as much-needed financial assistance. Built of logs and plaster, the church was opened in 1839, and given the name of St. George's church.

In 1877, the community, led by three of Mrs. Sibbald's sons, moved the original wooden church nearer the lake and began to construct a new, stone church. One of Mrs. Sibbald's sons, Capt. Thomas Sibbald, was a retired naval officer living at Eildon Hall. Daily he inspected the progress of the work and issued a ration of rum, navy style, to the workmen.

The work proceeded swiftly, and before the year was out it was opened officially by Bishop Strachan. It was dedicated to Mrs. Sibbald and was named St. George's Sibbald Memorial church.

As the years passed, the community slowly grew. The town of Sutton arose, and with the growth of the tourist trade, Jackson's Point developed into what is now primarily a summer playground. Other churches arose in Sutton to take the place of Sibbald Memorial during the winter months. For a number of years now the church by the water has remained open from May 1 to November 1. Its attendance during the summer months more than makes up for the winter closing.

Tear Down Tower
A crack was noticed in the church tower early in the last war. In 1944, at a cost of $3,000, the 28' tower was torn down. Each stone was carefully marked so that the tower could be rebuilt exactly as it was before. Reconstruction of the tower began on April 1 this year. By May 13 it was completed. However, in order to give greater architectural balance, the tower was reduced in height to 18'. On June 19 it is to be officially reopened and re-dedicated by the Venerable F. J. Sawers, Archdeacon of York.

In preparation for the church's 110th anniversary much polishing and redecorating has been going on within the church. The woodwork, which was handcarved by a former minister of the church, Rev. G. J. Everest, who died in 1933, is being scraped and cleaned. The church, too, is to be recarpeted with new

Weekly Garden-Graph

Bleeding-heart is still one of the most beautiful spring-flowing perennials, regardless of the array of newcomers which is introduced each year.

In addition to the old-fashioned variety of bleeding-heart, with its deep pink heart-shaped flowers, a new white flowering variety is now available.

It blooms heavily in the spring and continues to produce some flowers through the summer and into fall.

The shape of the pure white flower is similar to the older variety of bleeding-heart, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

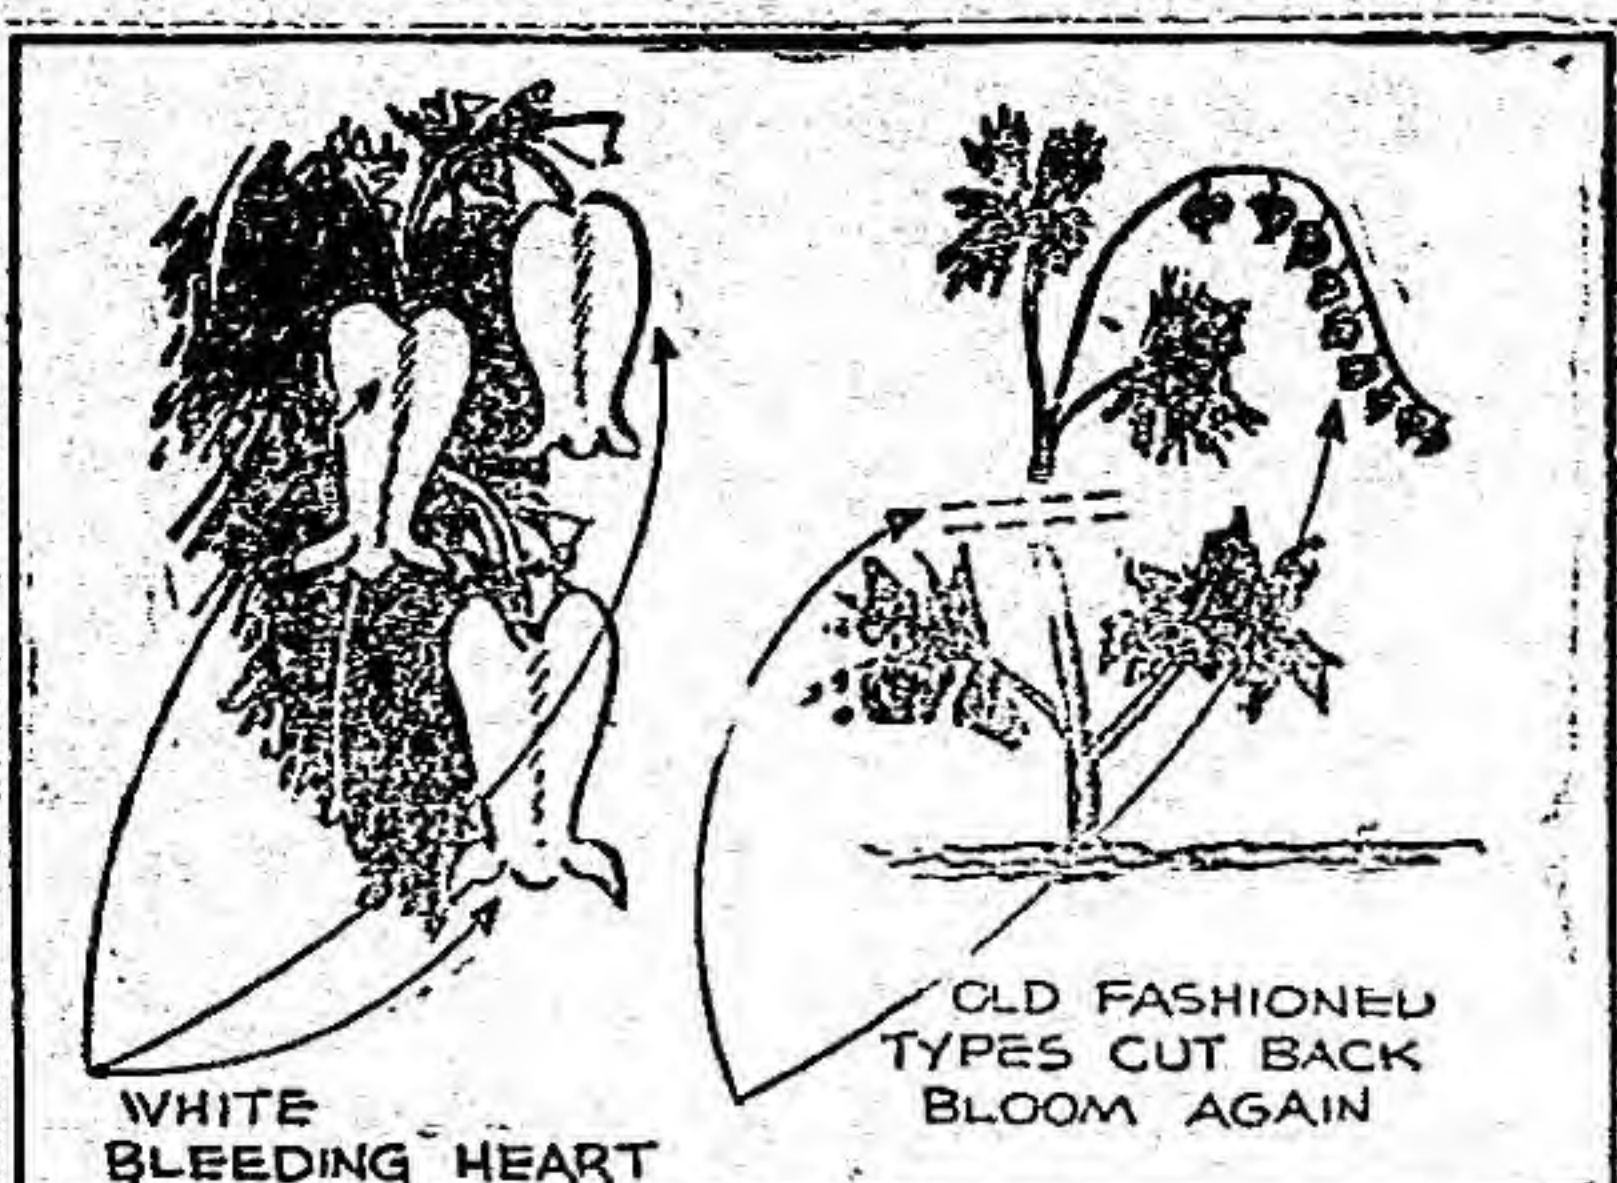

The white variety grows in any reasonably good garden soil but prefers a moist location in partial shade. As the plant only attains a height of 9 to 12 inches, it is excellent for the rock garden perennial border or woods garden.

It has now been learned that the old-fashioned variety of bleeding-heart will continue to bloom again, if it is cut back just as its first blooms are fading. Cut the plant back severely, as illustrated, and it will form a new top and new flowers.

Bleeding-heart can be propagated by cuttings taken shortly after the flowering period when new shoots form in the axils of the leaves. When these shoots are about four inches long they can be cut, leaving a piece of the parent stem attached.

Cold frames are ideal for propagating during the summer. When a cold frame is not available use a fruit jar or large glass tumbler for a forcing container.

PINE ORCHARD

Mr. Fred Smart, Toronto, will be in charge of services at Church of Christ on Sunday, June 19.

Mrs. W. Reid, Mrs. S. Edwards, Mrs. J. Lundy, Mrs. R. Chapman, Mrs. W. Shropshire, Mrs. B. Dike, Mrs. H. McClure, Mrs. W. Johnson, Mrs. H. Lehman, Mrs. C. Link, Mrs. Rae McClure, Mrs. M. McMillen, Mrs. H. Brammer, Mrs. J. Ash and Mrs. R. Armitage attended W.I. District Annual at Queensville.

National Film Board will show films at Pine Orchard school on Friday evening, June 17, at 8 o'clock. Mr. DeWitt will be in charge of films. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Pringle and Miss Irene Harper, Toronto, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Chapman.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Cole and family of the 5th con. north in the death of Mrs. Cole's father Mr. Albert Storks.

Crops Suffer
The drought has seriously affected hay, grain and root crops in this community as well as berry crops.

The good attendance at Union church on Sunday was most encouraging to the pastor, Mr. Harold Middle, who delivered a splendid sermon on "The Passion and Death of Jesus". Church service at 11 a.m. and Sunday-school at 10 a.m.

Young People's met with Vivian Young People's on Wednesday night at Vivian.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Armitage, Stouffville, Mrs. W. J. McCallum, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Don McCallum of the 2nd were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage.

In a letter from Mrs. J. Sytema in Holland, she says "Sugar is two lbs. for 75 cents, best cuts of meat $1.70 a lb and bread 48 cents a loaf. Oranges are a rare treat."

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Toronto, spent Sunday at their farm and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lundy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lundy and Mr. Ray Lundy called on Mr. and Mrs. W. Grindell, Toronto, on Thursday. Mr. Grindell is seriously ill at his home.

MOUNT ZION

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cole and family had Sunday dinner with the Kellington family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred King, Ravenshoe, had Sunday night supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris and family.

On Friday, June 3, Mount Zion school ball team visited Queensville and was defeated 37 to 7. In spite of the one-sided score it was a good game.

The hydro camp has been moved from the sixth concession where it has been located since November.

It is nice to see the road being improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates and Murriel, and the evangelist, Mr. Setter, had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Edward King and Eddie.

Ladies Top League With Midland Win

Newmarket ladies watched Midland make four miscues in a brisk second frame and then chipped in with their bit, four hits. When it was over they counted six runs, enough to put the game away in the victory column. For good measure the locals added on two more in the following frame. That made it Newmarket 8, Midland 4, a win that moved the Courtney girls into the league leadership.

Mary Osborne started it off with a triple in the second and finished the journey when Midland tossed the ball a mile over the third sacker's head. Mae Primrose was on by an error, Lois Manning singled, Mona Dean singled both across the platter for the second and third run, Hester Clark was safe on an infield error, second sacker

3 Teams Undefeated, Keswick vs Hope Tops

Lake Simcoe softball crews are making hay while the sun shines. Three teams remain undefeated, Pine Orchard, Mount Albert and Zephyr. Zephyr's record is best, no losses, no ties against them, three wins.

Don "Lefty" Glover is back in harness for Hope, and that's the reason Hope made big gains last week. They hopped on Vandorf 19-6. Hope's two big frames were the fourth, seven runs, and the fifth, four runs. Harold Botham and Lloyd Preston both were shelled by the Hope swingers. Cab Preston homered but missed a base and was called out.

The best this year was Hope 4, Keswick 3. It had everything, good pitching by Harold Smith for Keswick and Don Glover for Hope. It was three runs for Hope in the third. Keswick broke the string for two in the fifth, squared it in the seventh, Bob Pollock plastering the apple for a long four-baser for the tying tally. Ross Eves and Ken Harman, Holland Landing citizen with Hope, earned pats on the back. Ross tripled and with two out Ken Harman singled to take over the hero role and give Hope a win. Can this be true? Pine Orchard 21, Keswick 21. It was a free swinging contest with both pitching staffs, Harold Smith for Keswick and Bill Walker and Ted Tidman for the Orchard, taking a thumping. Both teams tossed in a bag full of errors. Keswick finished strongly with four in the sixth and an equal number in the seventh. Homers by Ken Hodgins, Bob Pollock for Keswick, Bill Walker for Pine Orchard. Great running catch by Claude Pollock in centre field. Maybe the first ray of sunshine for the Queensville flock. They didn't win but made it mighty interesting with Willow Beach 5-4. It was a pitcher's duel, Cec McNeill for the Beachers, Bob English for the losers. Queensville's shortstopper Jack Perry connected for a circuit smash in the second with the bases untenant.

It's a clean slate for Mount Albert yet. They hexed Brownhill 11-2 last week. Ken "Red" Mitchell saw his shut-out fly out the window in the final frame as a pair of outfield errors gave the Hillers their pair. Duff Sedore was the losing hurler. Doug Ross homered, Charlie Green and Ross Draper tripled, Green's blow coming with three on. He was out trying to stretch it into a four baser. Hal Watts returned to the Mounties line-up. Happy Mr. Roberts must be back to about the original line-up now. Here's another for the addition experts, Keswick 20, Willow Beach 15. Keswick again tied off the apple so much that Cec McNeill had to retire when hit by one of these drives. Don Cameron finished the game and did well too. Bob Pollock, Claude Pollock, Keswick sluggers. McTaggart and Martin topped Beachers in the hit department.

Ivan Eves and company of Sharon came up with a surprise 12-4 win over Willow Beach. Ivan Eves, the winning pitcher, had help from Les Blunt in the fifth. Don Cameron and Cec McNeill shared the loss. Pitcher Cameron hit a homer with one on. Les Blunt stole the fielding show with a nice catch in centre. Seven-run second started Sharon away.

Couple of changes in playing dates, says President Ross Chapman. Mount Albert at Zephyr, due for attention this week, goes on June 20. Pine Orchard at Keswick moves back from June 24 to July 13. Others: June 16, Zephyr at Pine Orchard; June 17, Mount Albert at Keswick; Hope at Queensville; June 20, Mount Albert at Zephyr; Sharon at Hope; June 21, Brownhill at Zephyr; Queensville at Pine Orchard; June 22, Vandorf at Willow Beach.

News n' Views

By GEORGE HASKETT

Man the battle stations! Lacrosse opens tonight at the arena, Huntsville the opposition. It was tough and go for a spell whether our Redmen would keep going or withdraw. The reason was the travelling distances. Here's the kind of junket before the season is out: Port Hope, Huntsville and Midland, then Brooklin and three Toronto teams, Maitlands, Toronto and Ravinias. In some respects Newmarket is fortunate, being more or less central. Now the Redmen, club colors red with gold shoulder inserts, will fare financially may be the biggest problem. Club president Dewey Kuhns has several crowd appealing projects on the wing, destined to swell the attendance and that's just what is needed to put it over. Once a customer always a customer. The game has a lot of zip and brings them back once bitten by the bug. Newmarket players with the crew are headed by Bob Benville, Jim "Spike" Cain, a real corner, Gord "Red" McNern and Harold Gwyn. The latter, after receiving a release to run with Bradford, is back in the fold, the Celery Kings calling it off so far as O.L.A. competition goes because of those self-same travelling jaunts.

Main defense bulwark, as last year, will be Perry Standeven and Scotty Johnston. Up with the front runners are Bill Heffner, leading scorer of last season, Tom Cooney, Art Woods and Ken Hirtz. A word to the wise is sufficient they say, so for the benefit of the opposition, here's a tip: don't start shenanigans with Art Fox on the Redmen's defense. Art is all Ontario amateur heavyweight wrestling champion and also City of Toronto light-heavyweight title holder. Coach Matt Walsh says, "It's a battling club. They'll win games." So don't miss the trip to the rink tonight. If you take a stroll down there after the conclusion of the ladies softball game you'll be right on the dot. Booster tickets available at many local merchants on Wednesday.

The arena is going to keep busy this summer. To augment the lacrosse program, Les Beazer is putting his promotional genius to work with plans for wrestling bouts. Possibly next week or the week after will see the inaugural set. Tuesday evening's the probable time. Later, boxing bouts will have attention.

Vets' Sport Day makes its initial appearance as an annual event Saturday. Four teams, Mount Albert, Zephyr, Queensville and the Vets are after the prize money. Newmarket ladies close the sporting end with a challenge tilt with an all-star nine from Aurora, Stouffville and Elgin Mills of the North York Ladies' League. Starting time, 1 p.m., location, S.S. school grounds.

A chap that's going to be missed both in Aurora and North York baseball circles is Len Simmons. Always a willing worker he kept plugging for baseball in North York keeping the wheels going under extremely tough circumstances. We know well voice the wish of the canolton sporting circle with our "Best of luck, Leonard, in your new situation".

Haskett's Hash: "Shorty" Turan, Ollie Gould and our baseballers are beginning to look like a ball team. The Davis Leather Co. has come through with the loan of their uniforms. You'll have to play heads up ball to fill those, boys. Main trouble is lack of opposition. Markham has folded, leaving Stouffville and Aurora. Why not Saturday afternoon double-headers with outside teams? Could be a drawing card. Recent additions to the club have been Mac Clement, Normie Stunden, Jack Andrews and Jim Rutledge. Cheer, cheer dept. Baseball diamond is getting attention this week. Nice work Tom Birrell and Charlie VanZant. Vets finally dropped a game. No calamity, an exhibition fray with Orillia Legion under the lights Friday. Were without "Joint" McComb, Charlie VanZant, Joe Tunney and Normie Legge. Score 7-2. Loring Doolittle, Andy O'Neill and Earl MacDonald up from Aurora to assist. McDonald's men have chance for revenge June 21 here. Friday game broadcast over CFOR, Orillia, your scribbler guest commentator—please, no calls from the CBC. Long John Hisey and "Joint" McComb lead Vets' home run sluggers. Lions club program goes forward again this summer. No need to go around with your tongue hanging out at the home games any longer. Howard Brown and his Newmarket Trumpet Band have permission to set up a soft drink booth. Funds in aid of band uniforms. Monday Keswick and Hope put on a best for the season, in the Lake Simcoe doings. Hope out front 4-3.

Pickering Presents Awards To Students

Ted Kennedy of the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey club and Vic Obcek, head coach of McGill University, were the guest speakers at the annual Pickering College Athletic Dinner Thursday. Chairman C. R. "Blackie" Blackstock made the introductions. Awards presented to the students were: the Widdington Award (students who contributed most to the life of Pickering College over the past year), Dunc. DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Let's have a quick look at the why's, wherefore's, and whereabouts of a lot of our old friends from yesteryear and yesterday. Research reveals that Maurice Walsh is umpiring baseball in the Cape Breton Colliery league which enjoys the privilege of Sunday baseball. "Mo" has definitely given up playing baseball and softball, and he's mighty fond of the Maritimes. It's only a mere matter of 1975 miles to Gloucester on the Emerald Isle from Glace Bay. Last winter, Walsh banded 102 games during the regular and play-off hockey series, an average of six games a week.

He refereed all the Maritimes finals from bantam to senior, and as a token of appreciation the Sydney minor hockey league presented him with an engraved lighter. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Walsh, he missed handling some of the Allan and Memorial Cup games. Next winter it's likely he'll be working in the U.S.A. He won't go however unless he can secure visas and living quarters for his family.

Not so far away from Walsh, at Halifax, is an old North York favorite, Herb Burchall, who in pre-war days was a standout performer on the ice lanes for Sutton Greenshirts. Herb, who hailed from around Uxbridge, was a smart ball player too. Now, it's Lt. Commander Burchall all of the Navy, engaged on radar work in which he played a prominent part during the war. Last winter he managed the navy team which won Maritimes intermediate honors and the Halifax city league. A member of the navy team was Petty Officer Garfield Charles of Langstaff, brother of "Sonny" Charles, the nifty young short-stop of the Langstaff softball club.

Closer to home we note that Johnny Callahan, popular Newmarket Camp athlete, is playing softball with Robertson's in the Beaches league and baseball for Sportsmen's Legion team in the Viaduct circuit. "The Irish Thrush" has been doing great work both at the plate and in the field. Bob Hassard, ex-Richmond Hill junior hockeyist who has been a top-notch with Marlboros juniors and seniors the past two winters, is playing baseball for Stouffville intermediates of the Tri-County league. Bob had a tryout for Brooklyn and attended the Maple Leaf's schools. He is a first-sacker, but in addition can do a fair chore on the pitching mound.

With Markham out of intermediate ball, Earl Cook has a clear title to a lot of players if he gets in the O.B.A. series. So far as the Tri-County is concerned, he has only a 12-mile radius. Orval Rouse, big hurler from Milliken, has been lost to the club being employed for the summer on construction work near Brockville. Among those carrying the torch for Stouffville on the diamond this year are: Nick Prosenko, Gordy Minton, Lou Raxlin, Bud Watson, "Pinky" Schell, "Hocus Pocus" Miller, Bill Nigh, Wally Nicholson, Ted Cadieux, Ben Sellars, Ewart Bagge, Fred Schepelman and Jack Wolfe.

Bill Cox, who tried for a place with Aurora juniors last winter and played several games in intermediate, is playing softball for Unionville of the Markham township league. Among the Unionville players are "Pinky" Wetherall, former Markham junior hockey player, and the veteran Charlie Blundell. Unionville is the current leader of the southern softball league, and appears likely to hold the early season advantage through the schedule.

Specialty Trebles Trophy Won By Toronto Rink

It's all very well on occasion to play the perfect host and let the visitors have the run of the house, but our local lawn bowls experts maybe overplayed the part for they allowed the Office Specialty Trebles trophy to slip away to Toronto—a calamity that mayhap should be investigated by the committee on un-expected Newmarket activities. Ed Pound's Canada Club (Toronto) rink captured the trophy in the opening bowling tournament of the season at the greens here last Wednesday. Pound's rink, skipped by himself, N. Jones

Woodbridge Falls Before Veterans 10-5

The Vets are rolling merrily along. It was Woodbridge's turn to absorb the punishment Tuesday, 10-5. The Bridgers gave the Vets their best run of the season. "Joint" McComb pitched five-hit ball for the Vets. He didn't land into trouble until the eighth. Then the invaders put two hits and a walk together and Bill Sheppard cleaned up with a home run into right centre field. "Joint" proved some sort of cousin to his opposition moundsman, Geo. Hall, allowing him to slap out three of Woodbridge's five hits. McComb struck out 13.

The Vets started away like an old jalopy with activated gas in the tank. They pushed over five runs in the initial chapter due chiefly to Normie Legge's four-base knock that sent Ken Tupp and Harv Gibney home. Joe Tunney and Bus Carter followed across the plate on new catcher Clark Arnold's line single. Vets added single runs in the second and fourth and stepped up the output to three in the seventh, as Charlie VanZant made his first appearance at the plate. "Peaches" after having a word battle, he had the last word and the last laugh, socked out a roaring double to score a pair of tallies. Harv Gibney led the Newmarket attack of 13 hits on Geo. Hall, the Woodbridge tosser, with three safeties. Last Thursday the Vets chewed up Schomberg on their diamond 23-10. "Joint" McComb and Long John Hisey were kings of the swat brigade with three hits each, both connecting for base circling clouts. In the absence of a regular backstopper, Fred Dillman took over behind the bat and did a fine job of it.

Friday night at 8 chimes the softballers are foregathering at Leonard Holman's on Wells St. to elect the club officers for the year. All are invited to attend, and the boys are expecting some good support from Aurora sportsmen in view of their fine record to date. Oh yes! the team will be known as "Meteors" and according to Ryan there's never a poor performance.

Aurora Juveniles More Than Holding Own

Aurora juvenile baseballers are more than holding their own in league competition having downed Stouffville juveniles twice and split with Newmarket intermediates in four tries. Manager Bill Allen is well pleased with his team which is fast rounding into shape. Grant Winters is handling the mask and big mitt like a veteran. The Simmons brothers, Ron and Gerry, and Hal Stephenson are handling the pitching assignments. Don Gibson and Hugo, along with the two non-working pitchers, complete the infield. Andy Closs Jr., McKnight, Harold Timbers, Tracey Barrager and Jim Cook roam the outer pastures and have been deadly in the field. The team is hoping to see more fans at future games, and it looks as if Aurora will have a real contender for juvenile "C" honors this year.

is reached the hall, Reeve Logan re-opened his demand on Councilor Legge again. The reeve said that he still hadn't received an apology from Mr. Legge for stating he had given him abuse when he called at the reeve's home to discuss the police issue.

Mr. Davis was with Legge on the visit, and Reeve Logan demanded that Davis state what he heard. However, the superintendent hadn't a good memory, couldn't recall the discussion very well. He did say, "I don't think there was any abusive language or anything."
